USED NOVELTY

This is how creative, lively, and playful interior design can be. The used look meets ornamentation, faded tones meet powerful colours. But the most important thing is that it doesn't have to be perfect.

The passion for wood is in our nature.

Those who deal with wood every day develop a special relationship with nature. The respectful handling of this fascinating raw material has always been the basis of our work. It's evident in the resource-efficient processing as well as in the finished product. For example, we only use timber from regional, sustainable forestry – our cork is also certified. We deliberately do not use plasticisers or PVC. All flooring is free of harmful substances, even the decorative print of our flooring is based on water-soluble dyes. For this reason, we have been awarded numerous national and international environmental certificates. Healthy living also speaks for our flooring: Anyone who has ever experienced the atmosphere of a room with EGGER Flooring will understand our passion for wood.

All the by-products of production, such as chips and offcuts, are recycled through our sustainable environmental cycle.

Information on the level of emission of volatile substances into indoor air, presenting a risk of toxicity by inhalation, on a scale of class going from A+ (very low emissions) to C (high emissions).

Size matters.

The correct floor board format helps you to underline the impression the room makes: Emphasise generous space ratios with long, wide floor boards, small spaces appear larger with short, narrow floor boards. The characteristic of the texture of the decor can easily calm or enliven the atmosphere of the room.
